

EVOS

EVOLUTIONARY STUDIES PROGRAM
AT BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY

Fall 2009 EvoS Seminar Series

Evolutionary Studies seminars take place on Fridays at 4:00 PM in Lecture Hall 2.

September 4

Liza Moscovice
Binghamton University

Hedging their Bets? Explaining Long-term Investment in Juveniles by Male Baboons

September 11

Diane M. Doran-Sheehy
Stony Brook University

The evolution of non-conceptive mating: New insights from studies of wild western gorillas

September 25

Karen Hollis
Mount Holyoke College

Cognitive Ecology: An Evolutionary Approach to Associative Learning

October 2

Peter O. Gray
Boston College

The Human Ancestral Environment for Education, and Its Relevance for Education Today

October 9

Chris Kuzawa
Northwestern University

Testosterone and male life history: evidence for developmental adaptation in the Philippines

October 23

Steven Siegel

Landscape to Life: An Artist's View

October 30

Rolf Quam
Binghamton University

Human Evolution and Paleoanthropology

November 6

Bill Jankowiak
University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Desiring Sex, Longing for Love: A Tripartite Conundrum

November 20

Peter B. Gray
University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Hormones and Human Childcare: Evolutionary and Proximate Dimensions of a Cooperative Breeder

December 4

Massimo Pigliucci
CUNY Lehman College

Evolutionary Theory: toward an extended synthesis?

Noon Seminar: What is the role of theory in evolutionary biology?

More information about each seminar is available at:
<http://evolution.binghamton.edu/evos/seminars/fall-2009/>